The City of Light Becomes More Accessible Than Ever as French bee Announces Miami to Paris Route Launching in December 2022

France's first smart-cost long-haul airline adds fourth U.S. route and opens affordable fares starting at $281 each way

MIAMI (June 20, 2022) – Starting today, French bee airline continues its rapid U.S. expansion and opens ticket sales to its first Southeast route from Miami to Paris Orly beginning December 2022. The coastal metropolis of Miami is one of the world's most popular destinations and now, South Floridians can experience the airline's spirited and authentically French nonstop flight.

French bee is one of the most competitively-priced long-haul carriers since its arrival to the U.S. market with San Francisco (SFO) to Paris and Tahiti in 2018. Within the last 10 months, French bee successfully launched two Paris routes from Los Angeles (LAX) and New York (EWR), further establishing the airline as the only nonstop carrier to bring travelers to the closest airport (ORY) to Paris, and now Miami.

French bee's introductory fares from Miami to Paris Orly start as low as $281 each way in Basic Economy, making it the most affordable. Three hyper-customizable a la carte ticketing tiers (Basic, Smart and Premium) allow for travelers to pay for exactly what they want while air+train packages enable passengers to build discounted itineraries beyond Paris. Plus, French bee has an interline partnership with Alaska Airlines for travelers outside of Miami to conveniently connect from various cities.

"Paris remains one of the most desired international destinations in the world for South Floridians and with the continued growth that Miami is witnessing, we are confident that this is the best market for our first Southeast route. We are excited about this expansion as we know that passengers will find value in booking competitive prices in the market," says Marc Rochet, President at French bee. "With the access that the new Miami service provides, we expect it to generate high demand, forging more economic and tourism ties between both cities."

Beginning December 15, French bee will operate three weekly nonstop flights from Miami International Airport (MIA) to Paris Orly Airport (ORY) and increase to four flights per week by April 2022.
